Naval Community College Enrollment

U. S. Naval Community College has opened opportunities to USCG enlisted reservists to apply for one of two associate degree programs. The NCC courses are for an associate degree in either Military Studies or Nuclear Engineering Technology.

In order to apply for this program, members will need to:

1. Receive Command approval to attend this program
2. Apply on the NCC website at <https://www.usncc.edu/>
3. Applicants names are submitted to FORCECOM for an internal vetting process

Each semester, members attending this program will need to get approval from their Commands.

The application process is open through 27 March 2022.

For more information on each of the degree programs visit:
